Executive Summary

The City of Fontana engaged Willdan Financial Services (Willdan) to determine the full costs incurred by the City to support the various activities for which the City charges user fees. Due to the complexity and the breadth of performing a comprehensive review of fees, Willdan employed a variety of fee methodologies to identify the full costs of individual fee and program activities. This report and the appendices herein identify 100% full cost recovery for City services and the recommended level of recovery as determined through discussion with departmental staff. The recommended fees identified herein are either at or less than full cost recovery.

User Fee Background

Background

As part of a general cost recovery strategy, local governments adopt user fees to fund programs and services that provide limited or no direct benefit to the community as a whole. As cities struggle to maintain levels of service and variability of demand, they have become increasingly aware of subsidies provided by the General Fund and have implemented cost-recovery targets. To the extent that governments use general tax monies to provide individuals with private benefits, and not require them to pay the full cost of the service (and, therefore, receive a subsidy), the government is limiting funds that may be available to provide other community-wide benefits. In effect, the government is using community funds to pay for private benefits. Unlike most revenue sources, cities have more control over the level of user fees they charge to recover costs, or the subsidies they can institute.

Fees in California are required to conform to the statutory requirements of the California Constitution, Proposition 218, Proposition 26, and the California Code of Regulations. The Code also requires that the City Council adopt fees by either ordinance or resolution, and that any fees in excess of the estimated total cost of rendering the related services must be approved by a popular vote of two-thirds of those electors voting because the charge would be considered a tax and not a fee. There are no fees suggested to be set above the cost of service and as such a public vote is not required.

California User Fee History

Before Proposition 13, in times of fiscal shortages, California cities were able to raise property taxes, which funded everything from police and recreation to development-related services. However, this situation changed with the passage of Proposition 13 in 1978.

Proposition 13 established the era of revenue limitation in California local government. In subsequent years, the state saw a series of additional limitations to local government revenues. Proposition 4 (1979) defined the difference between a tax and a fee: a fee can be no greater than the cost of providing the service; and Proposition 218 (1996) further limited the imposition of taxes for certain classes of fees. As a result, cities were required to secure a supermajority vote in order to enact or increase taxes. Due to the thresholds needed to increase local taxes, cities have less control and very few successful options for new revenues. The State of California took a series of actions in the 1990's and 2000's to improve the State's fiscal situation, at the expense of local governments. In 2004-05, the Educational Revenue Augmentation Funds ("ERAF") take-away of property taxes and the reduction of Vehicle License Fees further reduced local tax revenues.

In addition, on November 2, 2010, California voters approved Proposition 26, the "Stop Hidden Taxes Initiative", which is aimed at defining "regulatory fees" as a special tax rather than a fee, thus requiring approval by two-thirds vote of local voters. These regulatory fees are typically intended to mitigate the societal and environmental impacts of a business or person's activities. Proposition 26 contains seven categories of exceptions. The fees analyzed as part of a User Fee study typically fall under categories one through five consisting of charges for specific benefits, government service, regulatory need, for use of government property, or a fine/penalty.

Additional Policy Considerations

State regulations require that municipalities update their fee schedules to reflect the actual costs of certain public services primarily benefiting users. User Fees recover costs associated with the provision of specific services benefiting the user, thereby typically reducing the use of General Fund monies for such purposes.

In addition to collecting the direct cost of labor and materials associated with processing and administering user services, it is common for local governments to recover reasonable support costs. Support costs are those costs relating to a local government's central service departments that are allocable to the local government's operating departments. Central services support cost allocations were incorporated using the resulting indirect overhead percentages determined through the City's Cost Allocation Plan. This plan was used in the User Fee study to account for the burden placed upon central services by the operating departments in order to allocate a proportionate share of central service cost through the study.

As labor effort and costs associated with the provision of services fluctuate over time, a significant element in the development of any fee schedule is that it has the flexibility to remain current. Therefore, it is recommended that the City include an inflationary factor in the resolution adopting the fee schedule to allow the City Council, by resolution, to annually increase or decrease the fees.

The City may employ many different inflationary factors. The most commonly used inflator is some form of the Consumer Price Index (CPI) as it is widely well known and accepted. A similar inflator is the implicit price deflator for GDP, which is much like the CPI except that while the CPI is based on the same "basket" of goods and services every year, the price deflators' "basket" can change year to year. Since the primary factor for the cost of a City's services is usually the costs of the personnel involved, tying an inflationary factor that connects more directly to the personnel costs can also be suitable if there is a clear method, or current practice of obtaining said factor.

Each City should use an inflator that they believe works the best for their specific situation and needs. It is also recommended that the City perform this internal review annually with a comprehensive review of services and fees performed every five years, which would include adding, amending, or removing fees for programs/services.

Study Objective

As the City of Fontana seeks to efficiently manage limited resources and adequately respond to increased service demands, it needs a variety of tools. A User Fee Study provides assurance that the City has the best information and the best resources available to make sound decisions, fairly and legitimately set fees, maintain compliance with state law and local policies, and meet the needs of the City administration and its constituency. Given the limitations on raising revenue in local government, the City recognizes that a User Fee Study is a very cost-effective way to understand the total cost of services and identify potential fee deficiencies. Essentially, a User Fee is a payment for a requested service provided by a local government that primarily benefits an individual or group.

The total cost of each service included in this analysis is based on the full cost of providing City services, including direct salaries and benefits of City staff, direct departmental costs, and indirect costs from central service support. This study determines the full cost recovery fee for the City to provide each service; however, each fee is set at the City's discretion, up to 100% of the total cost, as specified in this report.

The principal goal of the study was to help the City determine the full cost of the services that the City provides. In addition, Willdan established a series of additional objectives including:

- Developing a rational basis for setting fees
- Identifying subsidy amount, if applicable, of each fee in the model
- Ensuring compliance with State law
- Developing an updatable and comprehensive list of fees
- Maintaining accordance with City policies and goals

The study results will help the City better understand its true costs of providing services and may serve as a basis for making informed policy decisions regarding the most appropriate fees, if any, to collect from individuals and organizations that require individualized services from the City.

Scope of the Study

The scope of this study encompasses a review and calculation of the user fees charged by the following Fontana departments and fee groups:

- Building & Safety
- Code Enforcement
- Fire District
- Community Services
- Environmental
- Engineering
- Finance
- Police

- Office of the City Clerk
 - Planning
 - Development Services – Solid Waste, Stormwater

The study involved the identification of existing and potential new fees, fee schedule restructuring, data collection and analysis, orientation and consultation, quality control, communication and presentations, and calculation of individual service costs (fees) or program cost recovery levels.

Aim of the Report

The User Fee Study focused on the cost of City services, as City staff currently provide them at existing, known, or reasonably anticipated service and staff level needs. This report provides a summary of the study results, and a general description of the approach and methods Willdan and City staff used to determine the recommended fee schedule. The report is not intended to document all of the numerous discussions throughout the process, nor is it intended to provide an influential dissertation on the qualities of the utilized tools, techniques, or alternative approaches.

Project Approach and Methodology

Conceptual Approach

The basic concept of a User Fee Study is to determine the “reasonable cost” of each service provided by the City for which it charges a user fee. The full cost of providing a service may not necessarily become the City’s fee, but it serves as the objective basis as to the maximum amount that may be collected.

The standard fee limitation established in California law for such fees is the “estimated, reasonable cost” principle. In order to maintain compliance with the letter and spirit of this standard, every component of the fee study process included a related review. The use of budget figures, time estimates, and improvement valuation clearly indicates reliance upon estimates for some data.

Fully Burdened Hourly Rates

The total cost of each service included in this analysis is primarily based on the Fully Burdened Hourly Rates (FBHRs) that were determined for City personnel directly involved in providing services. The FBHRs include not only personnel salary and benefits, but also any costs that are reasonably ascribable to personnel. The cost elements that are included in the calculation of fully burdened rates are:

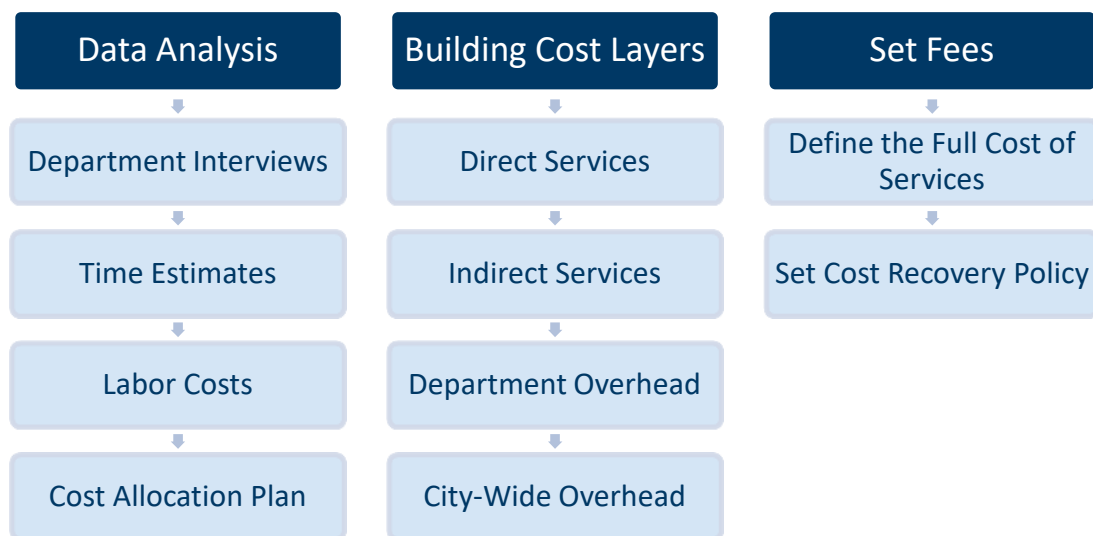

- Salaries & benefits of personnel involved
- Operating costs applicable to fee operations
- Departmental support, supervision, and administration overhead
- Internal Service Costs charged to each department
- Indirect City-wide overhead costs calculated through the Cost Allocation Plan

An important factor in determining the fully burdened rate is in the calculation of productive hours for personnel. This calculation takes the available workable hours in a year of 2,080 and adjusts this figure to 1,650 productive or billable hours to account for calculated or anticipated hours’ employees are involved in non-billable activities such as paid vacation, sick leave, holidays, and other considerations as necessary. Dividing the full cost, including overhead, of a position by the number of productive hours provides the FBHR.

The FBHRs are then used in conjunction with time estimates, when appropriate for how a service is provided, to calculate a fee’s cost based on the personnel and the amount of their time that is involved in providing each service.

Summary Steps of the Study

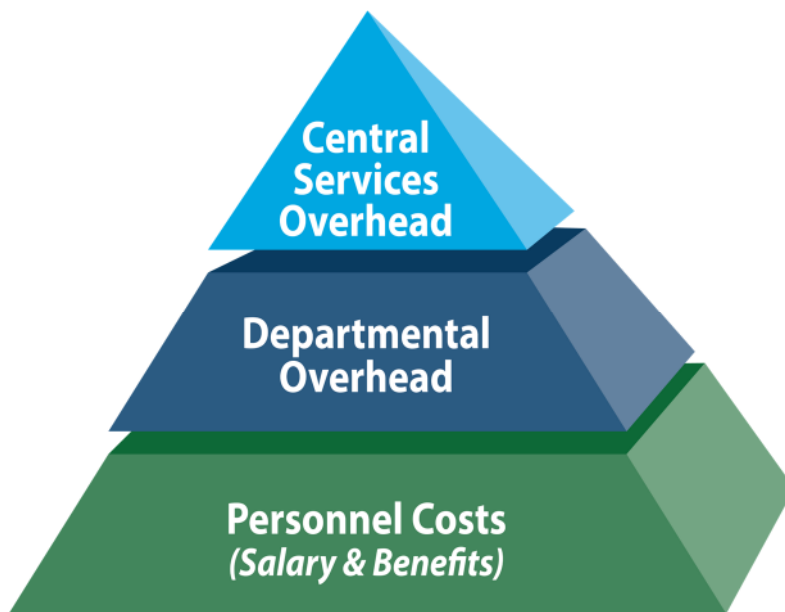

The process of the study is straightforward and simple in concept. The following list provides a summary of the study process steps:

Allowable Costs

This report identifies three types of costs that, when combined, constitute the fully burdened cost of a service (Appendix A). Costs are defined as direct labor, including salary and benefits, departmental overhead costs, and the City's central services overhead, where departmental and central service overhead costs constitute support costs. These cost types are defined as follows:

- Direct Labor (Personnel Costs): The costs related to staff salaries for time spent directly on fee-related services.
- Departmental Overhead: A proportional allocation of departmental overhead costs, including operation costs such as supplies and materials that are necessary for the department to function.
- Central Services Overhead: These costs, as provided via the City's Cost Allocation Plan, represent services provided by those Central Services Departments whose primary function is to support other City departments.

Methodology

The two methods of analysis for calculating fees used in this report are the:

Case Study Method (Standard Unit Cost Build-Up Approach): This approach estimates the actual labor and material costs associated with providing a unit of service to a single user. This analysis is suitable when City staff time requirements do not vary dramatically for a service, or for special projects where the time and cost requirements are easy to identify at the project's outset. Further, the method is effective in instances when a staff member from one department assists on an application, service or permit for another department on an as-needed basis. Costs are estimated based upon interviews with City staff regarding the time typically spent on tasks, a review of available records, and a time and materials analysis.

Programmatic Approach: In some instances, the underlying data is not available or varies widely, leaving a standard unit cost build-up approach impractical. In addition, market factors and policy concerns (as opposed to actual costs) tend to influence rental based fee levels more than other types of services. Willdan employed a different methodology where appropriate to fit a programs' needs and goals. Typical programmatic approach cases are facility use fees, penalties, and instances where a program cost is divided over the user base to obtain a per applicant cost for shared cost services.

Quality Control/Quality Assurance

All study components are interrelated, thus flawed data at any step in the process will cause the ultimate results to be inconsistent and unsound. The elements of our Quality Control process for User Fee calculations include:

- Involvement of knowledgeable City staff
- Clear instructions and guidance to City staff
- Reasonableness tests and validation
- Normalcy/expectation ranges
- FTE balancing
- Internal and external reviews
- Cross-checking

Reasons for cost increases/decreases over current fees

Within the fee tables in Appendix C, the differences are identified between the full costs calculated through the study and the fee levels currently in effect. The reasons for differences between the two can arise from a number of possible factors including:

- Previous fee levels may have been set at levels less than full cost intentionally, based on policy decisions
- Staffing levels and the positions that complete fee and service activity may vary from when the previous costs were calculated

- Personnel and materials costs could have increased at levels that differed from any inflationary factors used to increase fees since the last study
 - Costs that this study has identified as part of the full cost of services that may not have been accounted for in a previous study
 - Departmental overhead and administration costs
 - Internal Service Fund support costs
 - Indirect central service overhead from the Cost Allocation Plan
 - Changes in processes and procedures within a department, or the City as a whole
 - Changes in the demand for services in a City may have also changed the staffing or cost structure of departments over time

City Staff Contributions

As part of the study process, Willdan received tremendous support and cooperation from City staff, which contributed and reviewed a variety of components to the study, including:

- Budget and other cost data
- Staffing structures
- Fee and service structures, organization, and descriptions
- Direct and indirect work hours (billable/non-billable)
- Time estimates to complete work tasks
- Frequency and current fee levels
- Review of draft results and other documentation

A User Fee Study requires significant involvement of the managers and line staff from the departments on top of their existing workloads and competing priorities. The contributions from City staff were critical to this study. We would like to express our appreciation to the City and its staff for their assistance, professionalism, positive attitudes, helpful suggestions, responsiveness, and overall cooperation.

Fontana User Fees

Cost Recovery

The cost recovery models, by department/division fee type, are presented in detail in Appendix C. Full cost recovery is determined by summing the estimated amount of time each position (in increments of minutes or hours) spends to render a service. Time estimates for each service rendered were obtained through interviews conducted with City staff for each department/division fee included in the study. The resulting cost recovery amount represents the total cost of providing each service. The City's current fee being charged for each service, if applicable, is provided in this section, as well, for reference.

It is important to note that the time data used to determine the amount of time each employee spends assisting in the provision of the services listed on the fee schedule is essential in identifying the total cost of providing each service, and will differ from City to City depending on staffing, positions involved, experience on staff, the use of consultants, and the policies and procedures in place for each City. Specifically, in providing services, a number of employees are often involved in various aspects of the process, spending anywhere from a few minutes to several hours on the service.

The primary goal of this study was to identify the cost of City services, to provide information to help the City make informed decisions regarding the actual fee levels and charges. The responsibility of determining the final fee levels is a complicated task. City staff must consider many issues in formulating recommendations, and the City Council must consider those same issues and more in making the final decisions.

City staff assumes the responsibility to develop specific fee level recommendations to present to the City Council. Unfortunately, there are no hard and fast rules to guide the City, since many of the considerations are based on the unique characteristics of the City of Fontana, and administrative and political discretion. However, in setting the level of full cost recovery for each fee, one should consider whether the service solely benefits one end user or the general community.

Subsidization

Recalling the definition of a user fee helps guide decisions regarding subsidization. The general standard is that individuals (or groups) who receive a wholly private benefit should pay 100% of the full cost of the services. In contrast, services that are simply public benefit should be funded entirely by the general fund's tax dollars. Unfortunately, for the decision makers, some services fall into the range between these two extremes.

Further complicating the decision, opponents of fees often assert that the activities subject to the fees provide economic, cultural, "quality of life," or other community benefits that exceed the costs to the City, but it is important to distinguish the difference between any purported possible benefits that may be conveyed through the result of activities of the service receiver and the direct benefit being conveyed through the City providing the service to the requestor.

It is recommended the City consider such factors during its deliberations regarding appropriate fee levels.

Of course, subsidization can be an effective public policy tool, since it can be used to reduce fees to encourage certain activities (such as to ensure public safety) or allow some people to be able to afford to receive services they otherwise could not at the full cost. In addition, subsidies can be an appropriate and justifiable action, such as to allow citizens to rightfully access services, without overburdensome costs.

Despite the intent, it is important for the City and public to understand that subsidies must be covered by another revenue source, typically the General Fund's other unobligated funds. Therefore, the general taxpayer will potentially help to fund private benefits, and/or other City services will not have available funds that are otherwise directed to cover fee subsidies.

Impact on Demand (Elasticity)

Economic principles of elasticity suggest that increased costs for services (higher fees) will eventually curtail the demand for the services; whereas lower fees may spark an incentive to utilize the services and encourage certain actions. Either of these conditions may be a desirable effect to the City. However, the level of the fees that would cause demand changes is largely unknown. The cost of service study did not attempt to evaluate the economic or behavioral impacts of higher or lower fees; nevertheless, the City should consider the potential impacts of these issues when deciding on fee levels.

Summary

City staff is recommending setting user fees at 100% of the full cost identified in this study except for specific considerations where it makes sense based on how service is provided such as trade fees within Building that are often coupled together when provided, or for the City xeroxing fee where the full cost would be considered prohibitive. City and departmental goals, City Council priorities, policy initiatives, past performance, implementation issues, and other internal and external factors should influence staff recommendations and City Council decisions. In this case, the proper identification of additional services (new or existing services) and the update to a consistent and comprehensive fee schedule were the primary objectives of this study. City staff has reviewed the full costs and identified the recommended fee levels for consideration by City Council. The attached appendices exhibit these unit fees individually.

The preceding sections provide background for each department, division, and fee group and the results of this study's analysis of their fees. For the full list of each fee's analysis, refer to Appendix C of this report.

Building and Safety

Building and Safety promotes and maintains a safe and desirable living and working environment throughout the City of Fontana by administering fair and unbiased enforcement of State and local laws to reduce hazards and eliminate blight that adversely affects the quality of life and safety of the residents and those who work in and visit the city.

Analysis

Willdan individually reviewed the services and programs associated with Building and Safety. The review also consisted of an evaluation of existing services in an effort to update the fee schedule.

The analysis of Building and Safety services relied primarily upon a standard unit cost build-up approach, whereby we determined the reasonable cost of each fee occurrence using staff time to recover the direct cost of staff and pro-rata share of departmental costs, including indirect costs for County Central Services. The analysis found that most services are currently set below the full cost of providing them. Staff have suggested reasonable fee adjustments to the fee schedule, and they are detailed in Appendix C. As a result, there would be:

- an increase to 643 fees;
- 13 fees would decrease;
- 8 fees would remain as currently set;
- 1 new fee, Design review for Planning entitlement projects, would be added, and;
- the average change in fees would be an increase of 69%.

Code Compliance

Code Compliance's mission is to protect the health, safety, and welfare of the community members by obtaining compliance with the Fontana Municipal Code; to enhance the appearance of neighborhoods and business districts to prevent blight, protect property values and enhance economic conditions. The goal is to obtain voluntary compliance, whenever possible, by communication and education, while operating in a business-like manner.

Analysis

Willdan individually reviewed the services associated with Code Compliance. The review also consisted of an evaluation of existing services in an effort to update the fee schedule.

The analysis of the Code Compliance services relied primarily upon a standard unit cost build-up approach, whereby the reasonable cost of each fee occurrence was determined using staff time involved with providing the service to recover the direct cost of staff and the pro-rata share of departmental costs, including indirect costs for City Central Services. Willdan then compared the calculated full cost against the current fee amount to determine, if charged, whether the current fee is recovering the costs associated with the requested service. The analysis found that most fees are currently set below the full cost of providing the service. It is recommended that the City set Code Compliance fees at the levels detailed in Appendix C. As a result, there would be:

- An increase for 6 fees;
- 3 new fees would be added;
- 25 fees would remain as currently set, and;
- the average change in fees would be an increase of 3%.

Fire District

The Fontana Fire District serves the City of Fontana and its sphere of influence. The District is served by seven fire stations. The district's administrative offices are located at 17001 Upland Avenue and the fire prevention offices are located at City Hall, 8353 Sierra Avenue. The District is staffed with 140 full-time personnel: 124 safety employees and 16 non-safety employees. Emergency response, administrative and support services are provided through a contract under the umbrella of the San Bernardino County Fire Department.

Analysis

Willdan individually reviewed the services associated with the Fire District. The review also consisted of an evaluation of existing services in an effort to update the fee schedule.

The analysis of the Fire District services fee section relied primarily upon a standard unit cost build-up approach, whereby the reasonable cost of each fee occurrence was determined using staff time involved with providing the service to recover the direct cost of staff and the pro-rata share of departmental costs, including indirect costs for City Central Services. Willdan then compared the calculated full cost against the current fee amount to determine, if charged, whether the current fee is recovering the costs associated with the requested service. The analysis resulted in a combination of fees that are currently set below and above full cost. It is recommended that the City adjust fees and increase cost recovery to 100% for Fire services as detailed in Appendix C. As a result, there would be:

- An increase for 139 fees;
- 27 fees would decrease;
- 24 new fees would be added;
- 1 fee would remain as currently set, and;
- the average change in fees would be an increase of 50% for existing services.

Community Services

The Community Services Department is responsible for programs that promote active lifestyles and communities, support education and cultural awareness, and provide interactive recreational opportunities for Fontana residents of all ages. The department is comprised of four divisions (Administration, Arts/Marketing/Youth Services, Events & Athletic Services, and Facility & Senior Services) that work collectively to provide quality recreation, education and cultural art experiences for individuals, families, and the community. Programs, services and events offered by the department include special events, cultural arts, education and recreation classes, health and wellness activities, marketing and public communication efforts, youth and after school programs, sports, aquatics, facility management, and environmental and conservation programs. The department provides these programs, services, and events through 49 sports fields, 50 parks, 12 community centers, 7 miles of Pacific Electric Trail, 5 aquatic pool, waterslide, and splash pad centers, 5 outdoors sports pavilions and fitness circuits, 3 indoor fitness centers, 3 outdoor amphitheaters, 4 dog parks, 2 performing arts theaters, 2 skate parks, 1 gymnasium, and through partnerships with non-profit and service organizations throughout the county.

Analysis

No cost analysis was done on Community Services fees and all would remain as currently set as detailed in Appendix C.

Environmental

The City of Fontana Environmental offers many programs to residents of Fontana in the areas of: Curbside Used Oil and Filter Collection, Fats, Oils, and Grease, Household Hazardous Waste, Pretreatment, Recycling, Stormwater, Street Sweeping, Solid Waste and Trash Collection, and Water Conservation Workshops Chino Basin Water Conservation District offers a variety of landscape workshops to help you conserve water outdoors.

Analysis

Willdan individually reviewed the services associated with Environmental. The review also consisted of an evaluation of existing services in an effort to update the fee schedule.

The analysis of the Environmental services relied primarily upon a standard unit cost build-up approach, whereby the reasonable cost of each fee occurrence was determined using staff time involved with providing the service to recover the direct cost of staff and the pro-rata share of departmental costs, including indirect costs for City Central Services. Willdan then compared the calculated full cost against the current fee amount to determine, if charged, whether the current fee is recovering the costs associated with the requested service. The analysis found that most flat rate fees are currently set below the full cost of providing the service. It is recommended that the City increase cost recovery to 100% for Environmental services as detailed in Appendix C. As a result, there would be:

- An increase for 11 fees;
- 2 fees would decrease;
- 26 new fees would be added;
- 3 fees would remain as currently set, and;
- the average change in fees would be a decrease of 53% for existing services.

Engineering

The Public Works Department is responsible for constructing new infrastructure and maintaining existing infrastructure within the City through aggressive capital improvement, capital reinvestment and maintenance programs. The department's core duties include engineering evaluation, implementation of new infrastructure, execution of programs and services related to sewer, storm drains, refuse collection, recycling, water reclamation, streets, traffic, city trees, parks, streetscapes, graffiti abatement, public buildings and fleet maintenance and replacement. Public Works is organized into six divisions: Capital Projects, Fleet & Facilities, Land Development, Parks & Landscape, Traffic Engineering and Streets & Utilities. The department manages 131 full-time employees, numerous seasonal and parttime staff and multiple contract service providers while maintaining an "integrated service approach" by utilizing dedicated staff, contract services and construction contracts.

Analysis

Willdan individually reviewed the services associated with Engineering. The review also consisted of an evaluation of existing services in an effort to update the fee schedule.

The analysis of the Engineering services relied primarily upon a standard unit cost build-up approach, whereby the reasonable cost of each fee occurrence was determined using staff time involved with providing the service to recover the direct cost of staff and the pro-rata share of departmental costs, including indirect costs for City Central Services. Willdan then compared the calculated full cost against the current fee amount to determine, if charged, whether the current fee is recovering the costs associated with the requested service. The analysis found that most fees are currently set below the full cost of providing service. Staff have suggested reasonable fee adjustments to the fee schedule, and they are detailed in Appendix C. As a result, there would be:

- An increase for 40 fees;
- 1 fee would decrease;
- 72 new Engineering review fees would be added;
- 28 fees would remain as currently set, and;
- The average fee change would be an increase of 29% for existing services.

Police

The Police Department has 312 full time employees (217 sworn and 95 non-sworn) and is comprised of five (5) separate divisions: Office of the Chief of Police, Administrative Services, Field Services, Special Operations, and Civilian Administration. In addition to the main Police Facility there is a contact station located south of Interstate 10.

The Department's vision statement reads "Dedicated to excellence and professionalism, we are committed to working with the people of Fontana to enhance the safety and security of our diverse community" and their motto is "Service with Integrity." The Department follows a community-oriented policing philosophy which, through citizen involvement and participation, allows for the greatest impact in helping to address criminal and quality of life issues affecting the people of Fontana.

Analysis

Willdan individually reviewed the services associated with the Police Department. The review also consisted of an evaluation of existing services in an effort to update the fee schedule.

The analysis of the Police services relied primarily upon a standard unit cost build-up approach for fees, excluding penalties, whereby the reasonable cost of each fee occurrence was determined using staff time involved with providing the service to recover the direct cost of staff and the pro-rata share of departmental costs, including indirect costs for City Central Services. Willdan then compared the calculated full cost against the current fee amount to determine, if charged, whether the current fee is recovering the costs associated with the requested service. The analysis found that fees are currently set below the full cost of providing service. It is recommended that the City set Police fees at the levels detailed in Appendix C. As a result, there would be:

- An increase for 18 fees;
- 3 fees would decrease
- 40 fees would remain as currently set, including animal fees, and;
- The average fee change would be an increase of 3%.

Office of the City Clerk

The City Clerk's Office serves as the historian for the City and the direct link to its citizens keeping them informed of official actions of City government. The department prepares City Council agendas, maintains complete and accurate official City records which include records of all proceedings; maintains a current Municipal Code; conducts all municipal elections as well as any special elections which may be called; files Campaign Statements and Statements of Economic Interests as required by the Fair Political Practices Commission (FPPC) and municipal law; publishes all ordinances adopted by the City Council; assists with legal noticing; administers the Oath of Allegiance to elected and appointed Commission members; and prepares Proclamations and certificates. This department also accepts all liability claims, subpoenas filed against the City, and Public Record Requests.

Analysis

No cost analysis was done on the Office of the City Clerks fees and are recommended to remain as currently set as detailed in Appendix C. The services listed mainly pertain to reproduction of records and regulated subpoena fees.

Planning

The Planning Department promotes economic development while maintaining customer service excellence. It provides planning and staff support to the Planning Commission and assists the Planning Commission, the City Council, and the public in applying the community's strategic growth and development vision as defined by the City Council through the goals and policies of the General Plan and the implementation of those policies through the Zoning and Development Code.

Analysis

Willdan individually reviewed the services and programs associated with the Planning Department. The review also consisted of an evaluation of existing services in an effort to update the fee schedule.

The analysis of Planning services relied primarily upon a standard unit cost build-up approach, whereby the reasonable cost of each fee occurrence was determined using staff time involved in providing services to recover the direct cost of staff and the pro-rata share of departmental costs, including indirect costs for City Central Services. Willdan then compared the calculated full cost against the current fee amount to determine, if charged, whether the current fee is recovering the costs associated with the requested service. The analysis found that current fee levels are subsidizing the cost for most services to a large degree. It is recommended that the City set Planning fees at the levels detailed in Appendix C. As a result, there would be:

- An increase to 51 fees;
- 17 fees would decrease;
- 20 new fees would be added;
- 4 fees would change to a flat fee from a % based or cost fee;
- 1 fee would change to % based from a flat fee;
- 16 fees would remain as currently set, and;
- the average fee change would be an increase of 11%.

Finance

The Finance Department is responsible for managing and protecting the City's financial assets while providing excellent customer service. The department is comprised of five divisions (Administration, Accounting, Budget/Payroll, Customer Service and Purchasing). Responsibilities range from daily administration of City fiscal resources to long-range financial planning. Financial policies, plans, and reporting systems support the operating departments in achieving their objectives and assure the City's long-term fiscal health.

Administration manages the treasury function and debt issuance. Accounting is responsible for the general ledger, accounts payable, fixed asset management, and special districts. Budget/Payroll prepares and monitors the operating budget, capital improvement program and payroll. Customer service handles accounts receivable, utility billing, business license, passport services, dog licensing and cashiering. Purchasing is responsible for the procurement of materials, supplies and equipment, monitoring the P-Card program, providing for the disposal of surplus property, and overseeing the shipping and receiving services and City-wide postage.

Analysis

No cost analysis was done on the Finance fees and are recommended to remain as currently set as detailed in Appendix C. Most listed pertain to the Business License Tax.

Development Services – Solid Waste, Stormwater

The services included in Solid Waste and Stormwater include inspection, compliance, abatement, and bin service fees.

Analysis

Willdan individually reviewed the services associated with Development Services – Solid Waste and Stormwater Fees. The review also consisted of an evaluation of existing services in an effort to update the fee schedule.

The analysis of the Solid Waste and Stormwater Fees services relied primarily upon a standard unit cost build-up approach, whereby the reasonable cost of each fee occurrence was determined using staff time involved with providing the service to recover the direct cost of staff and the pro-rata share of departmental costs, including indirect costs for City Central Services. Willdan then compared the calculated full cost against the current fee amount to determine, if charged, whether the current fee is recovering the costs associated with the requested service. The analysis found that current fee levels are subsidizing the cost for most services to a degree. It is recommended that the City increase cost recovery to 100% for Solid Waste and Stormwater services as detailed in Appendix C. The bin service fees are listed in the schedule, but were not analyzed as part of this study. As a result, there would be:

- 12 new fees primarily relating to inspection and compliance would be added, and;
- The remaining fees, including Bin Services, would remain as currently set.

Appendix A – Total Allowable Cost to be Recovered

Below are the total allowable costs that may be recovered through User Fees; however, only a portion of the total allowable cost is recovered as staff not only works on services related to User Fees, but also works on an array of other City functions during the operational hours of the City. The amounts listed below will not reconcile to City budgets as costs that should not be included in overhead for personnel in the application of determining fully burdened hourly rates were excluded. Examples of these costs are capital, debt, monetary transfers, contract costs, and any other costs that are charged directly to the service requestor.

Appendix B – Fully Burdened Hourly Rates

Below are fully burdened hourly rates of staff positions that provide for the services detailed in Appendix C. The FBHRs were used to determine the full cost of each service. They include the salary and benefit costs for each position as well as all applicable overhead amounts for each position. When a central service department position works on a fee or project in the purview of an operating department, the overhead rates of the operating department (shown in Appendix A) will be applied to that central service positions' salary and benefit rate for full cost recovery since indirect overhead cost only applies to non-central service functions of the City. For any user fee service request that is outside the scope of the fees detailed in Appendix C, or for services for which there is no fee currently set, the City can charge up to the full cost of the FBHR for personnel involved.

Appendix C – Cost Recovery Analysis

The following tables provide the results of the analysis, resulting full cost recovery amount, and recommended fees. For fees, services, and penalties in which the full cost, existing fee, and suggested fee is listed as “NA”, the amount or percentage was not calculable. This is most common when either the current or the suggested fee includes a variable component that is not comparable on a one-to-one basis, a full cost was not calculated (for penalties, fines, market-based fees, or items not included in the study), or when there is not a current fee amount to compare against.
